EU-INDIA THINK TANKS TWINNING INITIATIVE 2020 - 2022

CALL FOR JOINT ONLINE RESEARCH COLLABORATION FROM CONSORTIUMS OF EU-INDIA THINK TANKS

14 July 2021

Dear Madam/ Sir,

On behalf of the Delegation of the European Union to India, EU Policy and Outreach Partnerships (EUPOP India) project is inviting applications from consortiums of EU and Indian think tanks to participate in the Joint Online Research Collaboration under the EU India Think Tanks Twinning Initiative 2020 – 2022.

The last date to receive your proposal, co-signed by both Indian and European leading consortium partners, is 8.30 PM IST on Monday 13 September 2021.

The proposal should be sent to the following email address: Ms Stefania Benaglia, EUPOP Think Tanks Twinning Initiative Coordinator at stefania.benaglia@eupublicdiplomacy.in with a copy to Mr. Anil Patni, Team Leader of EUPOP, AETS at anil.patni@eupublicdiplomacy.in and Ms. Deepakshi Vashishth, Senior Executive deepakshi.vashishth@aets-consultants.com .

The selection process will be carried out by an internal selection committee to be nominated by the EU Delegation and the successful consortium shall be notified shortly after. The selected works and activities should be carried out from October 2021 onwards. On November 15, a peer-to-peer review discussion will be organized by the selected consortiums. The deadline to present the final research is on Friday 24th December 2021.

We remain at disposal for any questions and queries.

Yours sincerely,

Stefania Benaglia

EU-INDIA THINK TANKS TWINNING INITIATIVE 2020-2022

CALL FOR JOINT ONLINE RESEARCH COLLABORATION

FROM CONSORTIUMS OF EU-INDIA THINK TANKS

BACKGROUND AND CONTEXT:

The EU-India Think Tanks Twinning Initiative (TTTI) was launched with the support of the European Union in 2015 with a view to promoting better understanding and stimulating joint research between the leading Indian and EU think tanks. The first edition of the TTTI was carried out between 2015 and 2017, and the second one between 2017-2020. Building on the results from previous editions of the initiative, TTTI 2020-2022 will aim at consolidating Think Tanks exchanges and seek to contribute to strengthening of the EU-India relations.

In particular, this call for joint online research collaboration is the component of the TTTI 2020 aiming at sponsoring original research. This initiative is organized under the EU Public Diplomacy in India through Policy and Outreach Partnerships project (EUPOP India), implemented by AETS.

OVERALL CONCEPT:

The aim of this exercise is to select two consortiums of EU-India think tanks to carry out joint research and produce original research papers. Each consortium will be composed of four to six leading experts from think tanks/ universities/ political foundations/ research institutions from the EU and India (minimum two experts from the EU and minimum two from the Indian think tank) to undertake joint research and produce one joint innovative research paper on a selected issue of interest to the EU and India. This research paper is expected to stimulate wider public debate in the EU and India via academic discourse and media coverage on the topic under discussion and possibly feed into the policy making processes both in the EU and in India.

In view of the travel restrictions due to the pandemic it is expected that the researchers from the EU and India will collaborate online for their research and writing and no international travels are foreseen.

Each project partner will be expected to ensure visibility of their activities undertaken under this project and of outputs produced through their respective outreach channels including newsletters, emails to their mailing lists, website, Facebook pages and Twitter handle etc., in coordination with the EUPOP project team.

EUROPEAN UNION

ELIGIBILITY:

- The call is open to think tanks, universities, political foundations, and research institutions registered and based in one of the EU 27 Member States or in India.
- Entities must submit names and CVs of the research team members who will be directly involved in the initiative. The joint application must be signed by the respective Head/ Authorized Signatory of both participating leading organizations.
- The research team fielded by the EU and Indian partner must each have the following characteristics:
 - One leading senior researcher. The leading senior researcher must have published at least one research/policy paper on EU – India relations or on a technical/ strategic issue of significance to the EU, India, and EU-India relations. She/He must have a post-graduate degree.
 - At least one junior researcher
 - The consortium team must comprise of 50% European and 50% Indian members.
 - Minimum 40% of the researchers must be female.

SUBJECT AREAS:

The applicant should draft a research proposal on ONE of the topics below:

- EU-India cooperation on “sustainable modernisation”: how can the EU and India best help one another to accelerate climate action, improve resource management, smart urbanisation and mobility, sustainable production and consumption, and the protection and restoration of ecosystems, while fostering socio economic development? How could Indian strengths and upcoming Industrial Transition best support the EU Green Deal’s goals and strategies and vice versa?

OR

- Opportunities and challenges for the implementation of the EU-India Connectivity Partnership: EU and Indian leaders agreed at their meeting on 08 May 2021 to build a sustainable and comprehensive Connectivity Partnership. The goal is to work together on regulation and support for private investments in high-standard physical infrastructure across all sectors: digital, transport, energy, and people-to-people. What are the opportunities and challenges in the implementation of building a new partnership for connectivity between the EU and India and with third countries and regions (including Africa, Central Asia, and the Indo-Pacific)?

EUROPEAN UNION

METHODOLOGY:

Two consortia will be selected. Each consortium should be formed by at least one Indian think tank plus one European think tank. Each consortium should appoint one leading expert acting as single-entry point. Each research team should be composed of four to six experts, equally representing the EU and India. Preference will be given to proposals providing geographical representation and inclusivity. Both participating think tanks will propose one senior researcher and one junior researcher to undertake the research.

Each consortium will submit a joint research proposal to produce one joint innovative research paper of about 5000 – 10 000 words, on one of the topics indicated above. Each paper must provide a European and an Indian perspective.

The consortium – with the support of EUPOP - will organize a peer-to-peer review discussion of the paper to be held virtually during the week of November 15th, 2021. The draft paper to be discussed during the peer – to – peer review, has to be submitted by Friday 12th November 2021.

The research team will be researching both individually and jointly, as per pre-agreed time-table. Research must include online/phone interviews with relevant policy-makers and subject matter experts and field visits if possible.

The deadline for submitting the final draft is Friday 24th December 2021. The final draft must include a language proofreading and the overall editing.

Research findings will be presented at a public event to be held in the second half of January 2022, while the research papers will be published online in the euindiathinktanks.com website.

PROPOSAL

The proposal must contain a Concept Note (maximum 1500 words) outlining:

- b. the title of the research project
- c. main thesis to be researched.
- d. its relevance and importance to the EU, India and EU-India relations and strategic partnership
- e. methodology
- f. the scope of work of each partner institution
- g. detailed list of interviews
- h. basic bibliography
- i. communication and visibility plan, including social media strategy
- j. CV of all the members of the research team along with a note on their suitability for the assignment. (Each CV not more than 2 pages).
- k. Organizational profile of the applicant organisations (not more than 500 words)
- l. Name and contact details of the lead researcher who will act as single point of contact
- m. The organisational superior's support letter for participating in this initiative

EUROPEAN UNION

Required Output

Each consortium is required to produce:

- One joint research paper of about 5000 – 10000 words. The draft paper has to be submitted by Friday 12th November 2021. The research paper must follow the template in annex 2.
- Organize one peer to peer review discussion of the paper to be held virtually during the week of November 15th, 2021.
- One executive summary including recommendations of maximum 2 pages
- A final report with all the materials produced as part of the action (e.g., research, videos, media coverage reports, etc.)
- Time sheets of the experts who have worked on the project (template will be provided).

An English language proofread must be performed ahead of submitting the final research paper. Each consortium will be provided with guidelines on both the format and on the content to draft the research paper. The Consortium is requested to strictly conform to the deadlines and to the guidelines.

Research papers will be published in the EU India Think Tanks Twinning website (www.euindiathinktanks.com). Research findings will be presented at other events organized by TTTI 2020-2022. Participating think tanks will be encouraged to disseminate the joint papers through their own communication channels such as emails, newsletters, websites, social media channels giving due credit to the EUPOP TTTI initiative. Copyrights to the research paper will belong to the EU Delegation to India. Authors will be free to use the papers for non-commercial use with due credit.

SELECTION PROCESS:

An ad hoc selection committee appointed by the EU Delegation to India will assess the proposals following the evaluation grid in Annex 1. The two proposals scoring the highest will be awarded the project. Decision of the selection committee will be final and cannot be challenged.

BUDGET:

Each consortium will be provided with a total of 30 000 euros, to be distributed between the consortium members. This amount will cover all the expenses related to the initiative, including (non-exhaustive list): drafting of the reports (including the research paper and the executive summary), final language proofread, final editing, administrative support in organizing and hosting the peer-to-peer review, communication and dissemination, and printing of the research.

Out of this amount, an advance amount of 30% will be given at the start of the project, additional 30% will be disbursed upon submission of the draft paper and completion of the peer-to-peer review. The balance amount will be disbursed upon publication of the research paper in the EU India think tanks website.

EUROPEAN UNION

Unjustified delays as well as papers not respecting the guidelines and quality, will not be published. Balance will not be paid in case a paper is not found to be of publishable standard.

ADMINISTRATIVE ARRANGEMENTS:

- The papers once submitted will be the property of the EU Delegation to India. However, the EU Delegation will always give due credit to the authors and their respective institutions in any public communications including publications or websites etc.
- A final report on the action will also need to be submitted officially to Ms. Stefania Benaglia, EUPOP Think Tanks Twinning Initiative Coordinator, with all the materials produced as part of the action (e.g., research / position papers, videos, media coverage reports, etc.) with copy to Mr. Anil Patni, Team Leader, EUPOP project.
- Processes related to payments will be carried out by the AETS team under the supervision of the Team Leader.

METHODOLOGY:

Both teams in the consortium will be researching the subject individually and jointly, as per pre-agreed timetable, to produce new research papers which are original and add fresh knowledge and insights on the given subject. For this purpose, the teams should outline in their proposal how they plan to work together in the process of drafting the research papers. The research must also include virtual interviews with key stakeholders. Each paper must involve active engagement and contribution of all team members.

Inclusion of a mix of research work and exchanges, and opportunities for experts' debates or discussions with a wider public, within the available budget are given preference.

FINANCIAL OFFER

Each proposal must be accompanied by a financial offer for up to a maximum of €30 000 per consortium per paper to be shared equally between the Indian and EU think tank.

This amount of €30 000 covers all inputs and costs related to the research and writing of the paper including:

- Production of a joint research paper
- Production of an executive summary
- Publication of the research papers/ any other publications/ webpages
- Communication and visibility activities by the respective TTs
- final language proofread
- final editing
- administrative support in organizing and hosting the peer-to-peer review
- printing of the research
- Production of the final report collecting all the materials produced.
